What is Mobile App Development & What is the role of PQSmitra in it?

Mobile app Development is the process of creating a software application/mobile app that runs on a mobile device. Such development can help you grow your business by developing an app and building brand royalty by engaging clients through personalized communication and providing excellent services that can be handled at the customer's fingertips. In today's environment, everything appears to run on apps. It gives a simple platform for people to interact with what they require. A well-designed software should be appealing to the eye and user-friendly, allowing customers to use it without complaint.

There are two dominant platforms in the modern smartphone market. One is the iOS platform from Apple Inc which is the operating system that powers Apple's popular line of iPhone smartphones. The second is Android from Google which operating system is used not only by Google devices but also by many other OEMs to build their own smartphones and other smart devices.
